THE WRECKED STEAMER.

Everything goes to show that the teamer wrecked in St. Mary's Bay, Newfoundland, is the Heligoland, the property of the Deutche-American Petroleum Company. Among a number of flags picked up yesterday evening near Holyrood was one with the colors blue, white and red, with the letter "R" in the center. This is the house flag of that company. Taken with the finding of the boat off Cape Pine marked "Heligoland," it seems to leave no doubt as to the identity of the vessel. A life buoy was also picked up with the name of the steamer painted on it, but the lettering was partly illegible from fire and water.

sign, a dark red flag with a yellow cross and the letter "R," a pennant of white guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by and red with the letter "I" in the center and the letter "G," and another red and white pennant with the letter "O".

He Only Repeats What Has Been Said Around The World. the center, and the letter "F." There are rumors of other finds, like uckets and oars, but these are not yet onfirmed.

In other respects, however, the day's operations by the steamers and fisher-men were disappointing. The former had to abandon work, owing to the heavy sea, as they could not approach he wreck, and the shore boats found the task equally difficult, and were obliged to abandon it early.

Landsmen were unable to get down

o the beach, and, therefore, unable to ecover the bodies, which have been ying exposed for five days and nights even bodies are now ashore, and can be reached when the sea becomes mooth. There are five other bodies in the wreckage near the ship. Others will were seen driving south yesterday. The wind is now veering landward again and will probably drive them all ashore today, but will keep a big sea on.
The German tank steamer Helizo-

land, Captain Von Rittern, sailed from Philadelphia January 5 for Bergen, Norway. The Heligoland was built at Newcastle, Eng., in 1890, and registers 1,563 tons. She was owned by the Deutsche-American Petroleum Compann

ASPHYXIATED .- William McFadden, of Roanoke, died yesterday afternoon at the Maryland University Hospital,

Baltimore, from asphyxiation. His companion, a Lithuanian, named Willism Bartinkos, is at the hospital in a critical condition from the same cause. Both men were found in a room over Joseph Kaluska's saloon, west Pratt street, in an unconscious condition, yesterday afternoon, and were immediately sent to the Maryland University Hospital, where McFadden died a few moments after his arrival. Bartinkos also said he came from Roanoke. He, together with McFadden, went to Kaluska's saloon between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning. To the man in charge of the place they told that they were tailors by trade, and had just arrived from Roanoke. Both engaged lodgings in the same room

REMARKABLE HYBRIDS.-There were three additions to the Baltimore Zoo yesterday. Nellie, one of the five female leopards, gave birth to three re-markable hybrids. The father of the youngsters is a jaguar, one of those in the collection of Madame Morelli. The event is said to mark the first success ful mating of a leopard and a jaguar in captivity, and the result is very inter-esting. It has been tried many times in the past, but has, it is claimed, always been unsuccessful heretofore. The attempt to mate a puma and a leopard, or a puma and a jaguar has also been tried, but has resulted each time in the lojury of the puma. The little cubs born yesterday will be exhibited in a few days.

NAMED HER TIME TO DIE .- Mre. William Rosser, a young woman, of Esston, Pa., who had been sick for some Esston, Pa., who had been sick for some time, Sunday startled friends who were at her bedside by calmly saying that she would die at 10 o'clock. Premptly as the clock struck that hour she breathed her last. After supper Mrs. Rosser, who was aware that she could not recover, grew more melancholy and when she purchases flour for her bread, cakes or pastry. She can never make any mistake when choosing the "Pride" flour, made by the her friends were encouraging her to hope for her recovery, she gradually weakened, and when the hour fixed by her to die arrived she passed away.

POKER LURES PRINCE TO RUIN.-As a consequence of the recent "bluffiog" at poker, by which Baron Erlanger, the well-known banker at Vienna, recently won $250,000 from Prince Charles, of Trauttmansdorff, hereditary member of the Austrain House of Lords, the police have been ordered to stop poker playing in all the ultra-exclusive clubs where it has prevailed.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every State in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has be-come the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher, of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the giobe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for ale by all druggists

AUGUST FLOWER. "It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years. I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesman, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remederation. Green's August Flower is a grand rem-edy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at the drug stores of Ernest L.
